STILL THOU ART NEAR ME.

[IN MEMORY OF MRS. S. H. BORKHEIM.]
And thou art gone! companion, friend, my bright and guiding star,
My helpmeet thro' those chequered years, and left me here to mourn:
And life now seemeth blank to me, thy loss my joy doth mar,
For from that land beyond the mists—from that mysterious bourne
No traveler returneth.

And thy sweet voice no more will fall upon my heeding ear,
And soon the grave will hide from me thy well-beloved face:
No more I'll gaze into the depths of thine eyes,
sweet and clear:
Light of my life thou'rt gone from me and
darkness fills thy place:
For thee my sad heart yearneth.

It seemeth but a little while since that ne'er-forgotten June,
When lilacs sweet and mignonette enriched
each fragrant breeze:
We listened to the prattling stream and the
nightingale's grand tune,
The drowsy hum of Nature and the droning of the bees:
Then thy love from thee I stole.

And there thy truth thou gavest me in whispers
shy and sweet:
The world seemed full of happiness and care
could find no room,
The babbling brook its music hush'd in the place where we would meet
To form our plans for future joys; and now this fearful gloom
Hath terrified my soul.

Oh, can it be that ne'er again thy hand I'll clasp
in mine, Thy sweet companionship no more will brighten
my dark hours,
Thy clinging arms in love and trust no more
around me twine,
And ne'er again thou'lt share with me life's sunshine or its showers?
List! the mournful death bells toll.

Oh, that those lips might speak one word in well-remembered tone!
And those dear hands so cold and dead might touch mine once again!
Or thy pure soul might hover near and leave me not alone!
Methinks 'twould ease my bursting heart and soothe its biting pain
While the dark years o'er me roll.

The heav'n-born rays of the dying sun illumine
now thy bier,
They shed their crimson glory o'er thy pure
and hallowed face,
And pierce the darkness o'er my soul, my gloomy way they clear,
And bid me lift my grief-bowed head as they sanctify the place:
And their glad light doth cheer me.

And now the swelling organ peals burst forth triumphant, grand,
And rising, falling, echoing still, come the noble chords—and then—
"Thy will, O Lord of hosts, be done!" I cry, and humbled stand,
While o'er my soul, now free from gloom,
sweeps the sound of a great Amen,
For now I know thou'rt near me.

For Charity Sake.

The Salvation Army are greatly in need of cast off clothing for the constantly increasing poor that they come across and they appeal to the people of Berkeley to assist them in taking care of the poor. All persons having clothing of any kind that they will give to the poor can leave the same at Mrs. Greig's, 2105 Durant avenue, or send word to that address. There will be a meeting of the ladies of the Army at the above address on Thursday to take charge and distribute such donations as have been made.

Myron Whidden's Condition.

There was little, if any, change for the better yesterday in the condition of County Auditor Myron Whidden, who has been confined to his home for the past few days suffering from a fever and tonsillitis. The fever has been allayed to some extent but he is still seriously ill from the throat trouble.

Miss Jennie Lewis, who was shot several days ago by Muhler, a telegraph operator, died on Saturday night without having become conscious. She lingered 120 hours with a bullet in her brain.

Look out for a number of resolutions of intention and the amended ordinance in reference to the collection of taxes that will appear in tomorrow's issue of the GAZETTE.

Everybody is looking for something new and feel glad when it is found. Mrs. E. Serb has opened a store at the corner of Calais and Fairview streets at Lorin, where everything is new even to prices. Look at them in our advertising columns and be satisfied.

It will not be long before the new ferry depot at the foot of Market street San Francisco is an accomplished fact. When it does come about, Berkeley and Oakland people will only have a few steps to walk to get into the wine vaults of Mohns & Kaltenbach. They are located at 29 Market street, and are always pleased to have people residing on this side of the bay visit them.

A farewell surprise party was tendered by the members of the North Berkeley Christian Endeavorers, on Friday evening last, to Miss Fannie Isham, at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Harrison. The surprise was given because Miss Isham, who has been visiting her aunt, and having made many warm and true friends in Berkeley, will leave for her home in Chicago, tomorrow.

The young people of the Baptist church had a birthday social at the church on Friday evening last. The admission fee was one cent for each year of a person's life. Those present represented 1420 years. Will some bright student tell us how many people were present. The receipts were $14.20. Those present enjoyed a one musical program, after which light refreshments were partaken of.

The Bloomer Ball.

The much talked of Bloomer Ball, under the auspices of the Foresters, took place at Pythian Hall on Saturday evening last.

While the dance was a success in the point of numbers, in the matter of bloomers it was a failure. There were quite a number of ladies present who had on bloomers under their skirts, but when they found that only a few little girls appeared in the costume, they wisely refrained from removing their skirts.

As there were no restrictions made in reference to whether skirts or bloomers should be worn, when the music struck up for the grand march the bloomer wearers were very scarce. The dance went merrily on, however, until 12 o'clock, and all present had a most enjoyable time.

The prize was awarded to the daughter of George Woodsum.

Another Veteran Gone.

On Saturday evening last, just a few minutes before the hands upon the dial of the clock had ushered in another day, the spirit of Hamilton West Miller the beloved husband of Hattie M. Miller, passed away to the bosom of his Maker.

The deceased has been sick for two months, previous to which time he, while not feeling overly well, kept at his work. At that time, however, he had to quit and took to his bed with a violent attack of Bright's Disease. All that medical skill could suggest was done, but his system had been undermined by the hardships of war, he having participated in the late rebellion, and the dread disease quickly carried him off.

The funeral will take place tomorrow (Tuesday) from the rooms of George H. Thomas, Post, G. A. R. at Red Men's Hall, San Francisco, at 12 o'clock. The interment will be private, at Odd Fellows cemetery.

The GAZETTE tenders its deepest sympathy to the bereaved widow in this her hour of trouble, and we salute the spirit of the dead veteran as it passes to answer to the long roll on the other shore.

Jennie Lewis' Funeral.

The funeral services of Jennie Lewis were held this morning at 10 o'clock, from the first Methodist church. Rev. E. S. Chapman was the officiating clergyman.

The police are now preparing for the inquest, which will be held this evening. Coroner Baldwin and Chief Lloyd held a conference yesterday, and decided upon the witnesses that would be called to testify as to the girl's tragic end. No new discoveries have been made.

Muhler, the young man charged with her murder, has offered nothing farther than he has already related to throw light upon the tragedy. He continues to maintain his innocence. His attorney is working hard, however, to prepare for the case. Muhler will not be present at the inquest, unless it is decided that his presence will be required.

That he is very unwise who refuses to advertise in the Berkeley GAZETTE.

Mr. S. H. Borkheim packed up all his household goods today and stored them away.

Col. J. O. Hanscom and W. R. Dickieson spent the day in Contra Costa county examining some oil well.

Abbott Bros., the Dwight way grocers have something to say to people who like fresh groceries at low rates. Look for it in another column, it will pay you.

A not overly young woman was riding down University avenue in bloomer costume, and as she got well started down grade she raised her feet up off the pedals, all the same the boys, and—well, the lady will not ride for several days, and the wheel will have to go to the shop for repairs.

Ramos & Renas announced last week a schooner load of cow hay for sale, and promised this week a schooner load of fine horse hay for sale cheap. True to their word they are now unloading some of the finest hay ever seen in Berkeley which they are selling at extremely low rates. Call and see them at the corner of Addison and Eighth streets.

The dance given by the Owl Club at Sisterna Hall on Saturday evening last was a howling success. There were very few from West Berkeley the majority of the Jimmy Faddens with their Molls coming from South of Market street, San Francisco. The success of the party was due to the unceasing efforts of Tommy Williams. It was not until the first train was ready to pull out for 'Frisco that the Owls were made aware that it was morning.

Fall Millinery.

Miss E. Barnett, formerly of No. 14 Grant avenue, San Francisco, but now on Center street opposite the Kellogg school, Berkeley, is now receiving her fall millinery. She has also dress making parlors and dress-makers' findings at 'Frisco prices. 89

THE ELECTRIC ROAD FRANCHISE.

EDITOR GAZETTE—Sometime ago an application was made to the Board of Trustees by Messrs. Wagner and Sell, that the Board offer for sale a franchise for a street railroad along Hopkins street from Sacramento street to Josephine street and from thence along Josephine street and thence along Rose street to Oxford street and thence down that street to University avenue and thence by way of University avenue and Stanford place to the intersection of Alston way. The petition recited that Mr. Sell was the owner of the horse car line now in operation between East and West Berkeley and Peralta Park and that both petitioners were the owners of the franchise granted to J. George Gardner along Shattuck avenue, Bancroft way and College avenue and that if they were granted the franchise asked for they would build and operate the three franchises as one road. The petition could not be acted upon at the time it was filed for the reason that the State law and the charter prohibits the granting of a franchise within 70 days after a general municipal election. It came up, however, at the meeting of the Board on the 2nd of August. The Attorney for the Board then made some explanation and as no one representing the petitioners was present the matter went over without action.

Last Friday night Mr. Wagner was present and asked one of the Trustees to bring the matter up as he would like to be heard and after the routine business was disposed of the Trustee stated the fact to the Board, and, permission being granted, Mr. Wagner then stated that the application was made in good faith, that they intended to build the road if granted the franchise, but that he believed that the requirements of the charter, of a deposit of $2000, was clearly in conflict with the State Law, which provided that franchises should be offered for sale, upon the conditions provided in the State law AND NOT OTHERWISE, and that they would not feel safe in making the deposit, for the reason, that if the provisions of the charter requiring it, were illegal, it might be regarded as a voluntary payment, which the Board would have no right or authority to refund. That it was an onerous condition, serving no good purpose, that they need all their money to build the road, and that they did not pretend to make their application, or desire to build the road, from motives of philanthropy but as a business proposition, that if the provisions of the charter were legal they would make the deposit, but did not feel safe in doing so until that fact was settled by the decision of the proper court and he asked the Board to take such action as would enable them to bring the matter before the Courts, and that the Town Attorney had a resolution drawn rejecting the application which was entirely satisfactory to them and he asked the Board to adopt that resolution.

Mr. Martin spoke up and said that he did not want to encourage litigation and that the pendency of such litigation would prevent action upon other franchises that might be asked for and the members from West Berkeley expressed themselves to the effect that they were opposed to granting any franchises in Berkeley unless in connection with a road direct from West Berkeley to Oakland. After some more desultory talk the resolution drawn by the Town Attorney was read and then the application was called for. The Town Clerk avoided calling it "an application for a franchise" but took occasion to remark that it was a paper left there and he did not proceed to read it but made what he considered a statement of its contents. Mr. Martin then moved that it be referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Wagner informs us that he had prepared a resolution to be adopted by the Board for the purpose of bringing the question in dispute before the Courts and he submitted it to the Town Attorney. The resolution was as follows:

"The matter of the application of Walter E. Sell and Theodore Wagner for a franchise for a street railroad over and along the following streets, to-wit: Commencing at the center point of the intersection of Sacramento street with Hopkins street and running thence along Hopkins street to the center line of Josephine street and thence along said Josephine street to the center line of Rose street and thence along said Rose street to the center line of Oxford street and thence along said Oxford street to the center line of the intersection of University avenue, thence along said University avenue to the center line of Stanford place and thence along said Stanford place to the center line of the intersection of Alston way; coming before this Board and it appearing that said application is not accompanied by a cash deposit of $2000 as required by the provisions of the 12th subdivision of section 50 of the charter of the Town of Berkeley. It is resolved by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Berkeley as follows: That the said Board refuse to consider the application for said franchise upon its merits and hereby reject the same for the sole reason that the said application is not accompanied by a cash deposit of $2000 as a guarantee of the good faith of said applicants as required by the charter of the Town of Berkeley."

The Town Attorney Mr. Hayne, however, had drawn up another resolution to the same effect which was entirely satisfactory to Mr. Wagner.

We do not wish to prejudice the Town Board before it takes final action in the matter but we deem it proper to offer a few suggestions to the Board and the public in reference to the matter. In the first place the applicants are responsible, enterprising and well known citizens and taxpayers of Berkeley, their application therefore deserves respectful consideration by the Board, all intentions ought to be in their favor and their application ought to be treated as made in good faith. The clerk of the Board particularly should recognize it as "an application for a franchise" and, should read it. It is not for him to determine whether it is a legal application or not.

It must be conceded that there is an apparent conflict between the State law and the charter as to the question of requiring the $2000 deposit and it seems to us that it is to the interest of all to have such questions determined as soon as possible. It will be noticed that the resolution proposed by Mr. Wagner, as well as that offered by the town attorney, is merely a statement of the true facts in the case and it does not seem to us that there can be any objection to that. Mr. Martin is evidently at fault in the position he takes in the matter, in passing upon any question as a member of the Board, he is not running a private business or a private corporation. In the business world the practice prevails of every one jealously guarding his own business and of admitting nothing, even if true, that may work to his injury, but in this case Mr. Martin is not acting in his private capacity but as a representative of the whole people, including these applicants, and in that capacity he is expected to act justly to both parties, the same as a judge upon the bench. If the provision in the charter requiring the deposit of $2000 is illegal, then it is both morally and legally wrong for the Board to exact it. The action of the Board in any doubtful question, to give the benefit of the doubt in favor of the validity of the charter provision, is very likely proper and we find no fault with that, but we do not think it is worthy of a Government to dodge such issues and thereby throw obstacles in the way of its citizens obtaining their legal rights. If the charter provision is illegal then the applicants have and ought to have a legal right to have the question determined in the Courts, and while the Board need not go out of its way to present everybody desirous of testing the legality of charter provisions with an issue, in the case of an application in good faith, they should not hesitate to state the facts as they are and not squirm or dodge a proper issue. The doctrine of the end sought justifying the means ought to have no application, in a Government based upon principles of justice.

The reason given by the members from West Berkeley that they would not vote to grant franchises in Berkeley unless in connection with a direct electric road to Oakland from West Berkeley are still more objectionable.

Berkeley is a municipality of itself and while easy communication with Oakland is desirable yet we do not think that Berkeley should strive to be a tail to Oakland's kite.

We think it would be a far better policy to develop a separate street railroad system for Berkeley itself, for that will in time inevitably lead to a separate Berkeley passenger ferry, and that is the ultimate object, we are assured of the persons who ask for this franchise. In order to justify the establishment of a passenger ferry from Berkeley, a street railroad system for Berkeley must first be created. It is only a few months ago that an ordinance was passed requiring all trains to stop at West Berkeley, but what was the result? The Railroad Company by simply threatening to take off the local train compelled the people of West Berkeley to petition for rescinding that ordinance. If there had been a separate ferry for Berkeley such a threat would amount to nothing, and the Board could then compel the railroad to stop all of its trains at West Berkeley. It needs only these suggestions to show that the West Berkeley members are acting against the interests of their constituents in opposing this franchise and are being used, as the monkey used the cat's paws, in the interests of the Southern Pacific.

Berkeley citizens are financially with a railroad system to Oakland, for the same simple reason that Jonah did not swallow the whale or that the tail does not wag the dog. The action of those Trustees, then, also amounts to a discrimination against citizens and taxpayers of Berkeley, and against the best interests of the town and its separate development. They may be content to be an appendage of Oakland, but we do not think that the majority of the citizens of Berkeley, or of West Berkeley, will agree with them upon that proposition.

The action of the Board rather looks as if they feared that the Charter is illegal, and are afraid to have it tested. If so, their consciences must be very elastic; they have taken an official oath to support the constitution and laws of this State, and yet if that Charter provision is illegal they are deliberately violating the supreme State law which they have sworn to support, upon the mere excuse that the Charter provides otherwise, when they know and their attorney will advise them that whenever they conflict the State Law is supreme.

One of the San Francisco dailies, which evidently reflects the ideas of the members of the Board upon this subject, says:

"But the members of the Board expressed themselves as unwilling to court a challenge of the legality of the Charter, and especially of this section, WHICH THEY REGARD AS EMINENTLY WISE."

In other words, they regard a deliberate violation of the paramount State Law as eminently wise.

When sworn public officers deliberately violate a law upon such flimsy pretense they set a bad example and invite others to disregard other laws which they may deem unwise. Their assumption of Superior right, or of virtue are equally out of place, and deserve rebuke from the citizens.

The Board may by its illegal action dodge this issue for the present, but if they imagine that they can escape it they are woefully mistaken.

Mr. Wagner when seen said that while he regarded the action of the Board as high handed and wrong he did not regard the franchise as of enough value to fight for.

We do not know how the matter can be brought before the courts, but it is no other way we feel sure that when the Board shall condescend, in its superior wisdom, to offer a franchise for sale, that may be desired by Oakland friends, bids will be made by others without being accompanied by the $2000 illegally required by the charter, and then, if not before, the question will undoubtedly be taken before the courts and settled.

We hope however, that the Board may see the error of its ways and do the honest and square thing, reject the application of Messrs. Wagner and Sell for the true reason, let their records speak the truth and let the consequences take care of themselves.

WATER POWER.

American and European Methods of Using It in a Large Way.

The standard American method of utilizing a large amount of water power has hitherto been to distribute the water to the several consumers or mill owners by means of a system of head races, so called, with facilities for its discharge at a lower level, to be utilized as the owner or lessee saw fit, and generally on his own premises. This led to long head canals and to insignificant tail races, whereas the Niagara plant consists of a common tail race, a mile and a half long, with comparatively insignificant head races. The old time water power company sold or leased the right to draw a definite quantity of water at defined times, with the privilege of discharging it at a lower level, and the mill owner did the rest, whereas at Niagara Falls the right is leased to discharge a definite quantity of water into the tail race tunnel, with the privilege of drawing this quantity from the head canal, or from the river. But over and above this the product—power—may be contracted for at Niagara Falls, delivered on the shaft.

To create a large group of mill sites of the older sort there was necessary, in the first instance, a large, continuous body of land, properly located for the purpose. If this could not be bought up secretly, and in large blocks, the whole water power enterprise would fail to come to fruition. In Europe, however, several such enterprises came into being in spite of the inability of the projectors to primarily buy tracts of land such as have been described. This was done by establishing central power stations near the dam, or head canal, and then transmitting the power produced, instead of the water to produce it, to the consumers or mill owners. Up to within, say, five years, this had always been accomplished by means of wire rope transmissions of power, and it is easy to see that the invention of the electrical transmission of power would give this form of the utilization of a large water power a great impetus. Many such plants are therefore already in existence, many are building, but among them all no one is probably so celebrated and is attracting the attention of all intelligent men as this at Niagara Falls.—Cassier's Magazine.

BIG OCEAN WAVES.

Careful Data Show Them to Be Not Over Thirty-two Feet High.

An article quoted in Current Literature gives this interesting information on ocean waves. Dr. G. Schott, as the result of studying the form and height of the waves of the sea, claims that under a moderate breeze their velocity was 24.6 feet per second, or 16.8 miles an hour, which is about the speed of a modern sailing vessel.

As the wind rises the size and speed of the waves increase. In a strong breeze their length rises to 260 feet and their speed reaches 86 or 88.4 feet per second. Waves the period of which is nine seconds, the length 400 or 425 feet, and the speed 28 nautical miles per hour are produced only in storms. During a southeast storm in the southern Atlantic he measured waves 600 feet long, and this was not a maximum, for in latitude 28 degrees south and longitude 89 degrees east he observed waves of 15 seconds' period, which were 1,150 feet long, with a velocity of 78.7 feet per second, or 46½ nautical miles an hour.

Dr. Schott does not think that the maximum height of the waves is very great. Some observers have estimated it at 80 or 40 feet in a wind of the force represented by 11 on the Beaufort scale, the highest number of which is 12, and Dr. Schott's maximum is just 32 feet. He believes that in great tempests waves of more than 60 feet are rare, and that even those of 50 feet are exceptional. In the ordinary trade winds the height is 5 or 6 feet. The ratio of height to length is about 1.38 in a moderate wind, 1.18 in a strong wind and 1.17 in a storm, from which it follows that the inclination of the wave is respectively about 6, 10, 11 degrees. The ratio of the height of the waves to the force of the wind varies greatly.

Double Duty.

A capital story was once told of the Rev. Thomas Hunt, the veteran temperance orator, who was well known in the early history of the Wyoming valley. He was a somewhat eccentric man, but possessed of remarkably quick wits, which stood him in good stead on many occasions.

During the civil war he enlisted in one of the regiments of infantry raised in the valley and served as chaplain. One day in the very fiercest of the battle a major rode up in front of the regiment, and seeing Father Hunt at the head of the ranks inquired in great astonishment:

"Chaplain, what are you doing there?"

"What am I doing?" repeated the stanch old minister quickly. "I'm cheering the hearts of the brave and watching the heels of the cowards!"

He was evidently performing this double task so well and thoroughly that the major could find no fault with him and left him to his self appointed charge.—Youth's Companion.

The Same Thing.

Major John writes in The United Service Magazine that while he was employed between Port Said and Kantara he saw the waters of the Lake Menzaleh "driven beyond the horizon" by a violent wind, so that the natives walked about where the day before they were fishing. This convinced him that he had seen exactly what happened when the Israelites passed dry shod through the Red sea.
